

IFBA Professional Certification Exam Session at AEBioS Congress

The IFBA is pleased to collaborate with the Spanish Biosafety Association (AEBioS) in the delivery of the IFBA's Professional Certifications during their upcoming Biosafety Congress to be held Sevilla, Spain from October 25-27, 2003. The certification exam session will be held on date at time. Please visit <https://aebios.org/event/vi-congreso-aebios/> for further details about the event.

In addition to offering the Professional Certification in Biorisk Management in the English or Spanish language, we will also be offering the new IFBA Professional Certification in Cyberbiosecurity and additional exams in Biological Risk Assessment, Biosecurity, Biocontainment Facilities, Biosafety Cabinets and Biological Waste Management. Only those individuals who have successfully completed the pre-requisite Biorisk Management certification are eligible for these additional certifications (please note that these additional certifications are not yet available in the Spanish language). For information on the exam content, study materials and sample questions, click here.

Individuals interested in taking an exam should notify AEBioS at secretario@aebios.org of their exam choice no later than September 1st. Payment of the exam fees ($200USD) can be made in cash on the exam day.

All candidates must create an account in the IFBA certification portal <https://candidate.internationalbiosafety.org> to generate a unique Candidate ID (do not register for an exam, simply create an account). An instructional guide and video on creating your account can be found on the IFBA's website at: <https://internationalbiosafety.org/certification/apply-and-take-an-exam/>
